Gretta Coker

2D Filmmaker and Animation Generalist

Gretta is a 2D generalist and filmmaker based in Bristol and the south of Ireland. Having recently graduated with a First in Animation at the University Of The West of England, she is looking to expand her experience within the industry. Gretta is drawn to the weird and wonderful. They have a passion for bringing characters to life through film and strongly believe in the power of storytelling and its ability to inspire and connect with others. They have acquired a broad range of skills by working on different student projects and live briefs.
